HAPPY NEW YEAR!

What are your plans and goals for 2012? Do you have definitive ministry plans for 2012 for the church? How about personal goals? What things do you plan to work on personally?

A new year brings promise of, and hope for, change. Someone once said, "To fail to plan is to plan to fail." We don't intend to fail. But, ministry doesn't just happen as though we are spectators sitting in the stands watching things unfold while we drink a soft drink and eat peanuts. Churches don't just grow; that occurs because we do the hard work of evangelism and making disciples. People rarely just give; rather they do so because we challenge them as stewards and teach them to obey. It takes planning and work. But that doesn't mean you have to re-invent the proverbial wheel. There are helps and resources.

Your GCBA spent a great deal of time and energy last year seeking God for a new vision for our association. This will begin to take shape in 2012. Very soon we will have information available on the website to assist you in leading your church to become involved with sister churches in developing this new vision as it relates to the local church. (By the way, the GCBA website is a good resource to keep you aware of ministry and training opportunities in the GCBA, so bookmark www.gulfcoastba.com and check it regularly.)

Speaking of upcoming events, mark your calendar for the Executive Board meeting on January 23, here at the GCBA TC. EVERY Pastor is a member of the Executive Board. Church folks, please remind and expect your pastor to attend these meetings. Each church is also entitled to one additional church representative. If you don't know who yours is, ask your pastor or church clerk. If you don't have one elected, do so at your next business meeting. Ask them to give a report to your church of the proceedings of these Executive Board meetings. It will make us a stronger association as you are informed about your association.

The Gulf Coast Baptist Association is the denominational entity that is closest to your church. We exist because of the churches. When you need resources, we are your first call. We provide training for group events, but we also provide custom training for your church, because we know you best. Your support of the local association is the first step in Kingdom ministry. Thank you for your faithful and consistent contributions to the GCBA. It is effective and makes a difference.

This month we begin our eighth year of ministry together. I cannot describe the joy I have because of the privilege of working with the staff and churches of the GCBA. Thank you for the blessing.

New Church Staff

Bel-Aire welcomes Brother Tony Brooks as Associate Pastor to Family Ministries. Brother Tony comes from Ellaville, GA and began his ministry here in November of 2011. He is married to Selena and has three young sons ages 4, 3, and 9 months. Welcome Bro. Tony.

Michael Memorial welcomes Brother Bryan Yates as our full time Youth Pastor. Pastor Bryan joins us full time after having served as a Gulfport Firefighter for the past 15 years and part-time Youth Director since 2010. He has been a faithful member here since June of 2001 and has been serving in our Youth Ministry since 2003 leading small group Bible Studies, teaching Sunday school and preaching on an interim basis. He is married to Suzanne Yates, a local school teacher, and they have two children, Bryan ("Goose") and Savannah.

We will have a special ordination service for Pastor Bryan this Sunday evening, January 15th at 5pm in the main sanctuary with a fellowship immediately following in the Fellowship hall.
